

Micron PAC Overview

In today's fast-paced and highly competitive tech landscape, decisions made by policymakers directly impact our business, our industry, and our ability to innovate. As a leader in semiconductor manufacturing and memory solutions, it's critical that our voice is heard in the policymaking process.

The Micron Political Action Committee (PAC) helps us do just that. Through the PAC, we support federal and state candidates on both sides of the aisle who understand the importance of innovation and the power of transformative technology.

As an extension of our political advocacy, the Micron PAC strengthens our influence, serving as an effective tool to build on our legacy of technological excellence and maintain our role as a leader in memory solutions that power our world.

The Micron PAC is

Compliant

The PAC Board, made up of company leaders, ensures governance and business alignment, while our U.S. Government & Public Affairs team handles daily operations.

Transparent

All PAC contributions and disbursements are publicly available through the FEC. We share regular updates about our political activity on our corporate site.

Impactful

Innovation drives Micron, and your PAC participation drives the policies that support our growth and shape.

Essential

Powered by voluntary employee support, the PAC safeguards our interests, amplifies our voice amongst industry peers, and keeps us competitive in an evolving policy landscape.

Invest

By coming together through the PAC, we help secure a policy environment that supports our mission, protects our leadership in technology, and powers what's next.
